Comprehensive equipment services for you

The ILC offers services to ensure you not only get the right equipment and home modifications for your needs, but that you also know how to use them effectively.

At our Centres in Nedlands and Cockburn you can access a wide range of current equipment and technologies.

You can also visit NED, our online national equipment database, and speak to one of our occupational therapists on our enquiry line.

With a range of services on offer, you can choose which level of service is right for you.

With the support of our occupational therapists, you can:

Explore your options for free

Contact our information and advisory service to explore suitable equipment items and home modifications that will assist you to achieve your goals.

Choose and purchase the best equipment or home modifications for you

ILC's occupational therapists can provide an assessment in your home to help you to determine the best equipment or home modification options for you. Following this we can prescribe equipment and support you to hire, trial and obtain equipment.

If changes to your home are required, such as a ramp or rail, or different access for a wheelchair or mobility device, we can help with this process too.

Have confidence to use it

To give you confidence to use the equipment you choose, our therapists can assist you to set up your equipment and can train you in how to best use it.

The ILC's assessment and therapy services attract a fee. Please contact us for pricing details.

The ILC is a registered provider for the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIA and My Way).
