Why choose Omnibus Services

Omnibus Services being a family owned and operated company has always put quality ahead of profit and is testament as to why they have survived in a competitive market for over 40 years of manufacturing.

An incredibly low staff turn over has enabled Omnibus Services to retain the years of experience obtained by its employees which has separated us from our competitors, this level of experience ensures our customers are receiving the highest standard of workmanship possible.

The peace of mind working with a supplier who has been in business for this long is invaluable when it comes to ensuring parts and service are available in the future when they are more likely to be needed, minimising downtime and costs to your operations.

Omnibus Services offers a one stop shop approach for our customers due to our manufacturing versatility.
